Open Therapeutics’ mission is enabling the global research community to positively impact human, animal, plant, and global environmental health. Therapoid.net is its free open science platform for the public, researchers, and students. It provides grant funding, equipment, technologies, intellectual properties, forums, a manuscript review tool, and ScienceCoins cryptocurrency awards.

As scientists and students collaborate within the free Therapoid scientific platform, they gain ScienceCoins awards. One might think of ScienceCoins as “Bitcoin for scientists.”

For a limited time, when students and researchers freely register, they gain complimentary ScienceCoins.

According to Open Therapeutics founder, Jason E. Barkeloo, “I am proud to represent Open Therapeutics in its leadership of open science, and its support pillars of DeSci and open access, which are reaching a tipping point for global acceptance.”

This event is one of a future series of events to lead the open science, open access, and DeSci adoption.

* The complimentary ScienceCoins awards are available for only a limited time and are open to any qualified registrant.

About Open Therapeutics

The Company freely provides the scientific community the Therapoid™ platform; an open science collaboration ecosystem that puts scientists and students at the center of research for positively impacting human, animal, plant, and global environmental health. Therapoid freely provides technologies, intellectual properties (IP), grant funding, equipment, forums, manuscript review tool, career and academic opportunities, and ScienceCoins cryptocurrency awards. Through creating the world's biggest think tank, members who openly share can be seen by recruiters for academic and career opportunities. This can be particularly beneficial to those in economically developing areas of Africa, Asia, and Latin America.
